H. Internet sources in the field of European law

There are many internet sources which allow an easy orientation and a quick access to the Law of the European Union. For example, you can find all the founding treaties, all EU legislation and all the case-law of the European Court of Justice in the internet. As well, some introductions to case-solving in the field of European law have been published in the internet. See the links on the special website for this course (http://home.lanet.lv/~tschmit1/Lehre/EC\_Internal\_Market\_Law.htm). Those who understand a little bit German will find detailed references at www.jura.uni-goettingen.de/schmitz (see "Links", "A. Europarecht" and "F. Fälle und Lernmaterialien"). Many subjects of this course are covered by the special websites on the European internal market of the European Commission (http://europa.eu.int/comm/internal\_market/index\_en.htm) and of the EU main server "Europa" (http://europa.eu.int/pol/singl/index\_en.htm).

I especially recommend those internet sources which provide the same informations in different European languages (see, for example, the website of EuR-Lex, <http://eur-lex.europa.eu>). It is useful to have a look on different language versions and to learn the most important legal terms in various languages. Most times, it is easy to switch between the different language versions ("lv" stands for Latvian, "en" for English and "de" for German). If possible, the founding treaties should be read in French, Italian oder German because the English version has been added later and contains many unprecise and problematic passages which may cause misunderstandings. Be careful with the Latvian translations because they show a lot of mistakes. - Unfortunately, not all documents are available in all official languages of the European Union.
